15-Year-Old Fire-Bug Kills Her Family

ELMIRA, N.Y. (AP)—Fifteen-year-old Jane Shusko admits setting the fire that killed seven members of her family, police say, but she doesn't know why.
"From her statement, the girl didn't appear to have been mad at anyone of the family, nor was she holding a grudge of any kind,"
said Police Captain J. William Maloney.

Jane's brother and six of her eight sisters died of asphyxiation in their second-floor bedrooms
Saturday night.

Jane escaped with her mother, Lillian. Two other daughters were rescued by a neighbor, Michael Shusko, the father, was at work in a milk-processing plant.
Police Chief Eugene Golden said Jane had signed a statement that she had thrown a lighted match on a pile of papers in a first-floor clothes closet. She also admitted having lit two fires the previous day.

Maloney said she would be held in jail for court-ordered psychiatric tests.
Neighbors described the girl as a friendly, hard working and well-mannered child who had been given much responsibility in the care of the children.

Poultrymen to Vote on Unionization

Members of the Southwest Arkansas Poultry Producers Association are preparing to vote on whether or not to affiliate with the Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen of North America, AFL-CIO, at their next membership meeting Monday,
August 3, at Patmos.

A proposed amendment to the association's by-laws was submitted at the July membership meeting at Bodew last week and approved without a dissenting vote. The amendment, if approved on final reading on August 3, will permit the board of directors to affiliate the association with the union.

"There is a feeling among broiler growers that they must have the assistance of powerful allies if they are to battle successfully against the forces of vertigin integration which have brought near disaster to this industry," declared President T. J. Silvey of Bodew, in discussing the proposed action.
"As individuals or even as members of local associations our voice is too weak to be heard, but with the support of the AFL-CIO's 18 million members and effective organization we can be heard in the halls of the Congress," he said.

Harriman for Recognition of East Germany

NEW YORK (AP)—Limited
acceptance of the East German Communist regime by the West without giving it diplomatic recognition is proposed by W. Averell Harriman, former ambassador to the Soviet Union.
Harriman, Democratic ex-governor of New York, added that he considers control of nuclear weapons the vital issue and Berlin largely a diversion in the current East-West imbasse.
CBS television program, he discussed the impressions he got in talks with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev during a recent trip
to the Soviet Union.
Harriman said Khrushchev gave him the impression that something might be worked out on Berlin "if we give some acceptance to the East German regime."

West Takes Initiative on Berlin

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER GENEVA (AP)—Western foreign ministers hopefully decided to take the initiative today and seek agreement with the Soviet Union on a plan for solving the Berlin crisis.

In a reversal of their earlier
stard, U.S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter and his British and French colleagues were reported ready to negotiate with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A.
Gromyko on his offer of a Berlin standstill agreement.

But they want the proposed moratorium to run for at least 30 months, instead of the 18 months offered by Gromyko, and they want a pledge of Soviet respect for Western rights in Berlin.
Herter was designated to lead the Western campaign when the Big Four conference reopened after a three-week recess.

Western diplomats said that in his leadoff speech Herter would offer certain inducements such as a cut in troop strength in West Berlin.

Herter and his colleagues won't know whether in accepting a moratorium with a deadline they would, in the Soviet view, be agreeing to give up their rights when the deadline expires.

If a Berlin compromise can be arranged, an East-West agreement on a summit conference to be held in the next two or three months seems certain.

Texarkana Railroad Man Is Shot

TEXARKANA (AP)—George A.
Alford, a 64-year-old railroad trainmaster, was shot twice in the abdomen in the lobby of the Union Station here Saturday afternoon.

Police later arrested Leonard Thomas Browning, 65, a railroad clerk, and docketed him on a count of assault with intent to kill.

Police Chief Max Tackett said Browning refused to discuss the shooting.

Tackett quoted Mrs. Charles Meal of Shreveport as saying she saw a man approach Alford, who was reading a newspaper. A scuffled followed, and shots rang out, she said.

Alford was reported as still in a serious condition at a hospital
here today.

He underwent emergency surgery immediately after being received at the hospital Saturday.

Kozlov Quits U. S. With a Good Gesture

NEW YORK (AP)—Soviet Deputy Premier Frol Kozlov wished the American people "peace and prosperity" today. Then he stepped aboard a Soviet jet plane and took off for Moscow.

In a brief message at the airport he said one of his chief impressions of his visit to the United States is that "the American people as the Russian people are striving for eternal peace between our two countries."

Kozlov said Sunday he agreed with Premier Khrushchev's predictions made in a televised interview that "the predominance of present-day Americans would live in a Socialist society."

He said, however, that he believes the system any country adopts should be its natural business of its people.

Gunman Shoots 3 at Church in Tulsa

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—A burst of automatic gunfire broke the Sunday cult at the Tulsa Baptist Temple. One person was killed and there were wounded.

J. R. Swarb, 32, a self-service laundry operator, threw down his .25 caliber automatic pistol when cornered by a traffic policeman.

The berserk gunman fired at least six shots into the congregation just before the start of morning worship. Services resumed with a visiting minister in the pulpit.

Police Commissioner Robert L.
Mawhinney said Swarb tried to kill his ex-wife's husband, Kenneth Starnes, 33. Instead he fatalily wounded his ex-wife's mother, Viola M. Bridges, 49.

Starnes was critically wounded.
His wife, Earlene Starnes, 31, was shot in a leg, Coriella Bragg, 58, wife of the U.S. commissioner in Tulsa, was also wounded in a leg.

Mawhinney quoted Swarb as saying he would have killed the Temple's minister, the Rev. Clifford Clark, "if I had seen him."

The commissioner said the slight, angry, gunman was mad at the pastor because he believed he had given his former wife church approval to remarry.

The Rev. Mr. Clark, who was to be shaken by the shooting to preach the Sunday service, said he had told the woman she had a right to divorce, but had not advised her on remarriage.

Split School Term to End at Black Rock

BLACK ROCK, Ark. (AP)—
What may be Black Rock's last split term school session opened here today.

Supt. Thomas Penn said the school board had voted to discontinue the split term. A Board spokesman said decreasing cotton acreage requiring students less in the fields, and other factors made the split-term system undesirable here.

At a new northeast Arkansas
schools still operate on the plan, which has one term from July to September and another from November to May.

The fall recess originally was designed to permit pupils to aid in harvesting cotton.

Steel Contract Hope Dim; Companies Begin Banking the Furnaces

Ike Appeals to Both Sides in Steel Fight

NEW YORK (AP)—Stalled
steel negotiations got under way again today at White House bidding but with scant prospect of an agreement to avert a strike at midnight Tuesday.
The union promised to make "an all-American try" at negotiating a strike-saving settlement.

R. Conrad Cooper, chief industry negotiator, threw cold water no settlement prospects and showed irritation in posing with union President David J. McDonald for photographers.

Cooper said there was only one possible way a strike could be avoided—for the union to again extend its contract.

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower today appealed to both sides in the steel wage dispute to continue to strive for a settlement and avert a strike.

Eisenhower's appeal was voiced James C. Hagerly.

It came after apparent collapse of negotiations Sunday. The Steelworkers Union has threatened a strike Tuesday at midnight.

Hagerly said Eisenhower conferred today with Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell regarding the threatened strike, fore the strike deadline set by the conferees.

As for the President's views, Hagerly read this statement to newsmen:
"There is opportunity and time for settlement to be reached before the strike deadline set by the
conferees."

Dog Ascension Date Given as July 10

LONDON (AP)—The Soviet Union rocketed two dogs into space July 10 and brought them back to earth, Moscow radio said today.

The broadcast said the dogs were carried aloft in a ballistic rocket weighing 2,200 kilograms—4,847 pounds.

Quoting an official Tass dispatch, the radio said a quantity of equipment was also parachuted back to earth.

The first announcement gave no details of the height attained by the rocket.

State Highway Toll Up Third Over June '58

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The State Police have reported Arkansas' highway death toll for June was 57 — 23 more than in June, 1958.

There were 295 fatalities for the first six months of the year, compared to 181 in the same period last year.

The report said most of the fatalities occurred in clear weather, during daylight hours.

Injuries in the 476 accidents investigated by trooper during June amounted to 235.

Foreign Policy Vital, Warns Fulbright

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Foreign relations and related fields are important to Arkansas Sen. J.
William Fulbright (D-Ark.) said yesterday.
The senator said that apart from in our attitude of peace many persons have a "foreign interest" in becoming active in the field of international relations and symposia all of which have expanded as examples.
"This means the state has an interest in such things as reception of the peace prize in other international affairs by the State Foreign Relations committee which he chaired. Fulbright said.
Fulbright, speaking at a conference broadcast by a Little Rock station, (KTHS).

Kennedy's Religion Hurts, Says Butler

WASHINGTON (AP)—Paul
M. Butler, Democratic national chairman said today he regretfully feels that being a Catholic would hamper the chances of a presidential candidate.

Sen. Thurston B. Morton (R-Ky.)
GOP chairman, agreed that might be so but added he is "hopeful it wouldn't be."
Both Butler and Morton, answering questions on a television show (NBC—Today), shied away from predicting their parties' 1960 presidential nominees.

Requires 3 Days to Shut Down Big Smelters

PITTSBURGH (AP)—With hopes dimmed for averting a nationwide steel strike at midnight Tuesday, steel companies today began the job of shutting down their plants.

Facilities cannot be shut off by pressing a button. It's a job that takes much time and considerable caution to avoid damage to costly equipment.

Most steel firms like at least three days to shut down a blast furnace. The job of starting up again takes even longer—sometimes as long as two weeks.

In preparing for a shutdown,
producers usually bank open hearth furnace and cook ovens first. They require cleaning and gradual reduction in heat.

Usually the giant furnaces are cleaned of iron and banked with coke to keep some heat in them during idle period. Coke ovens either have to be cleaned out and the heat gradually reduced or else scheduled for slower production.

Open hearth furnaces, where steel is produced, can be taken out of operation in something less than a day but the care needed is just as great as in the case of blast furnaces.

Maintenance of equipment is another problem. In some instances the job falls to supervisory company personnel who are usually locked in the plant.

Life of Crime Fascinating, Says Visitor

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Iain
Anthony Hemensley, self-styled gentleman burglar who reaped a fantastic haul working in daylight, knew all along he'd eventually wind up where he is today—in jail.

But the dapper visitor from Southern Rhodesia—credited with making off with between $50,000 and $100,000 in loot in six months
—says his fling at crime "was fascinating while it lasted."

Hemensley, in the United States on a visitor's visa, told police he committed at least 50 burglaries during his stay, striking at the homes of the rich while they were away. Actresses Zsa Zsa Gabor and Rosemary Lane are listed among his victims. "I got away with it for a long time," he said.

"Because of a Japanese philosophy which I applied to crime. You take the obvious and reverse it, and then do the obvious and it remains unobvious."

One of the obvious things about Hemensley's routine—outside the fact he worked in daylight—was the way he went to work. He drove to and from his jobs in a flashy white convertible. Trouble is, the car was stolen and a patrolman, Don Ferguson, spotted Hemensley driving it Sunday.

"That's how he landed in jail.
At the home of one of his victims, Hemensley wrote a verse in lipstick on a mirror before leaving. It read: "It is with regret your goods I begot, but for over a week I ain't won a bet."

"I should be imprisoned just for writing a thing like that," he said.

Miss Peggy Cummings and Joe Dale Harmon Exchange Marriage Vows
Miss Peggy Cummings, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Noel Cummings of Prescott, became the bride of Joe Dale Harmon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Harmon of Enmet at the home of her parents, Sunday, July 5. The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Ray Lawrence of Enmet, before the fireplace with an arrangement of gladioli on the mantel and double crystal candle holders at each end. Large baskets of gladioli and greenery were placed at each side of the fireplace.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a street length dress of white lace over tulle, fashioned on princess lines. Her veil of illusion fell from a bandeau of white sequins. The bride's only jewelry was a single strand of pearls. She carried a white bible topped with white mums and white satin streamers.

Miss Jackie Arnette, maid of honor, was attired in a street length dress of powder blue with white accessories. She pinned a corsage of white carnations at her shoulder. Mr. Jerald Harmon, brother of the groom, served as best man. For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Cummings was attired in a pink sheath dress. She wore a carnation corsage.

The groom's mother was dressed in a pale green linen dress with a carnation corsage. After the ceremony, a reception was held in the dining room. The table was overlaid with a white lace cloth over green. The centerpiece was an arrangement of shasta daisies. The white wedding cake, shaped like a large bell, topped with the traditional miniature bride and groom was served by Miss Jackie Arnette.

Mrs. Kenneth Harmon and Mrs. Howard Chisum, aunts of the bride, presided at the punch bowl. For travel the bride chose a navy blue sheath dress with white accessories.

buffet style to 34 members. Hostesses were the finance committee with Mrs. Opal Hervey chairman.

A business session followed the supper, with the President, Mrs. Roy Stephenson, presiding. Mrs. Inez Compton, Chairman of Public Affairs, presented two items of interest for vote. The club voted to endorse the United Fund program and to assist the Merchants Committee with the Christmas light project.

Mrs. Stephenson named her committee chairmen for the coming year as follows: Membership, Rosa Harrie; Finance, Mrs. Opal Hervey; Health and Safety, Mattie Mae Formby; Career Advancement, Justine Hamm; International Relations, Camille Thompson; National Security, Audrey Taylor; Public Affairs, Inez Compton; Public Relations, Naomi Patterson; Legislation, Virginia Hosmer; Telephone, Fay Russell; Student Loan Fund, LaVeta Mouser; National Business Women's Week, Hazel Pritchard; Sunshine, Mildred Dickinson; Year Book, Grace Prather; Scrap Book, Pauline Carter.

Hazel Pritchard gave an interesting talk about her recent visit to Washington, D. C., where she visited the New National B. & P. W. home just recently completed.

Games were played by the group for a most enjoyable fun hour. One new member, Mrs. C. A. Williams was invited to join the club.

The State Board Meeting will be held July 24th and 25th at the Velda Rose Court in Hot Springs. All members were invited to attend this meeting.

The next meeting will be held August 14 at the Diamond Cafe.

In the latest of union members, the steel companies and the public, the President hopes that the union and the industry will continue to work for a settlement.

Hagerty said Eisenhower had not been in direct communication with either side in the dispute. The press secretary noted, however, that on June 27 Eisenhower urged that both sides continue negotiations — without interruption of production — until a new contract had been agreed upon. He made that appeal to David J. McDonald, president of the Steelworkers Union, who then agreed to postpone any strike for two weeks — until midnight Tuesday.

Asked whether the President plans any new move to avert a strike, Hagerty replied only that Eisenhower will be watching the situation with great deal of interest.

NEW YORK (AP) — The nation drifted today toward a steel industry strike at midnight Tuesday. Negotiators broke off peace talks in despair.

David J. McDonald, Steelworkers Union president, called in the union's international executive board this morning and 181-man wage policy committee this afternoon to give them the gloomy picture.

The industry already was banking finances and slowing production ready for the expected strike, which industry and union sources said could be the longest in steel history.

Three days are normally required for a steel plant to make an orderly shutdown without matched, there is enough fertilizer to start the roses growing again.

Residents take their rabbits across to the city dump in their own autos. Some residential areas have been closed off by individuals — but the industry area is thick with debris.

Seventy-eight employees have brought city sanitation to a halt. Members of Local 1401 of the United Mine Workers Union, they are asking for a 10 per cent wage increase.

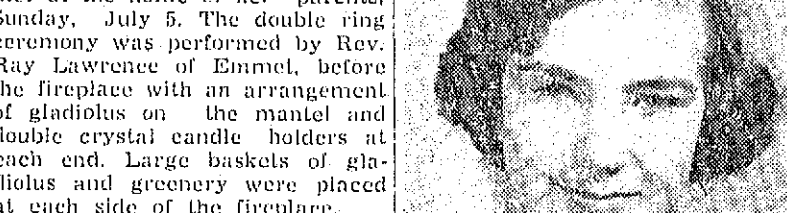

Union representatives complain that the city spent money for a bathhouse celebration but would not grant the wage increase. Salaries now range between $1.31 and 2.25 an hour.

damaging equipment. The Steelworkers Union rejected a renewed proposal by the industry that the contract be extended beyond Tuesday midnight. After President Eisenhower had intervened, the industry and union agreed to a two-week extension beyond the original June 30 expiration date.

McDonald said, "The industry does not want to negotiate and does not want to make an agreement." In view of that, he said, a further contract extension would be pointless.

The industry said a new and indefinite contract extension would be "the only practical way" to prevent a strike.

The industry refused to grant any wage or other concessions unless the union agreed to give the firms leeway to make cost-cutting work practice changes.

The union offered to engage in an industry-union study of questioned work practices but it refused to make any such trade.

The deadlock came after two fruitless negotiating sessions Sunday. McDonald accused R. Conrad Cooper of U.S. Steel Corp. and other industry negotiators of "walking out" and refusing further bargaining sessions (a day ago Cooper said his group is willing to meet anytime, but agreed that no further talks were scheduled).

The time is too short for President Eisenhower to invoke the emergency procedures of the Taft-Hartley law to avert a Tuesday midnight walkout by 500,000 workers in plants making 30 per cent of the nation's steel. This involves appointment of a fact-finding board and on investigation before a court injunction against a strike could be sought.

The desperate nature of the bargaining became clear after an exchange of industry and union proposals Sunday. None of them was accepted by the other side.

The argument boiled down to (1) industry insistence that it must have relief from union work practices that the industry says have saddled it with unnecessary costs since 1947, and (2) union demands that workers are entitled to new wage and benefit boosts.

Steelworkers now average $3.19 per hour earnings. The average price of steel is 15¢ a ton.

The industry has contended that labor contracts permit over manning of some operations in steel plants. The industry says the contracts also permit restrictions on employers in scheduling vacations and interference with management in getting full economy gains from new mechanization processes.

The union denied that present contract provisions promote "featherbedding," or unnecessary work assignments.

Golden Rule Needed In Caring for Aged

Dear Dorothy Dix: We have a summer cabin on a lake but can't enjoy it at all because, through a family arrangement, we are obligated to take my father-in-law for the summer. He just sits all day, listening to every conversation I have. I know I'd make a good (the fell in once) and I can't leave him alone to go visiting. I get no pleasure out of the summer because I have to spend it baby-sitting for an old man. My husband doesn't see where there's a problem, so I can't discuss it with him. The house is the usual small summer place and we can't get away from each other for a minute. — Jeanne

Dear Jeanne: Science, apparently, is doing old folks no good by prolonging their lives. We aged are still excess baggage in many homes. Your father-in-law is undoubtedly a trial but try to remember that someday, you, too, will be a burden to someone. How will you like to be treated? Ponder over that for a while and maybe your patience will be renewed. Your lake resort must have other old people in similar circumstances. Get them together for a summer golden-age group, take turns with other daughters to provide simple recreation for them, and you'll be guaranteed at least intervals of relief. I'm sure other families with older members would appreciate the idea. You are making a sacrifice for the old man and by accepting it in the proper spirit you'll be surprised how much easier it will be.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I met a boy this summer and love him so much I can't eat or sleep. I want to marry him and, though I'm only 13, I knew I'd like a good wife. My parents don't understand. — Penny

Dear Penny: Thank heaven there are laws to protect kids like you—and you write from a state where they are strongly enforced. Marriage is not a game for children; it's a most serious step for adults. Get your education, meet other boys and wait a good few years before seriously considering matrimony.

Dear Dorothy Dix: My boy friend says he loves me but tries to cheapen me by making advances and taking privileges. I think he really wants a good girl but is trying the out. If I break down I'm afraid he won't go with me and more. — Diane

Dear Diane: You've reached a wise conclusion. Take a firmer stand on halting the advances. If you permit minor privileges, ultimately you'll be giving in to the big ones.

Send your problem to DOROTHY DIX. Be sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope, and address her care of this newspaper.

3 Groups Qualify for Fund-Raising
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Three charitable organizations have qualified to raise funds under a new law aimed at curbing "racket" fund drives.

Sec. of State C. G. Hall said the three were the Arkansas Children's Hospital of Little Rock, the Pulaski County Chapter of the March of Dimes, and the Crosssett Area United Fund.

The law requires all fund soliciting organizations, except church groups, to register. It is part of a package of legislation passed this year.

No professional fund-raiser has registered so far, Hall said but one has inquired about the law.

Colavito Slugs Indians Into Crucial Win

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Look out Harmon Killebrew. Forget about Babe Ruth's home run record for the time being. The way to watch right now is Rocky Colavito.

The Bronx-born slugger of the Cleveland Indians closed within two of Killebrew's major league home run lead by bashing his 27th and 28th of the year Sunday.

The pair of four baggers, Colavito's fourth since the All-Star break, helped the Indians gain an uphill victory over Detroit and split in their doubleheader. The Indians won the second game 8-1 after losing the opener 6-2.

The split left Cleveland with a one-game advantage over Chicago's White Sox, who swept a doubleheader from Kansas City 5-2 and 9-7. Baltimore's third place Orioles defeated Washington 5-1 and Boston made it four in a row over New York with a 7-3 triumph.

In the National League, Milwaukee whipped San Francisco 4-2, and Cincinnati defeated Los Angeles 4-3. Pittsburgh edged St. Louis 6-5 in 10 innings of the first game of a doubleheader and led 5-4 in the ninth of the second game, halted by curfew. Philadelphia defeated Chicago 4-1 after the Cubs had won the opener 7-6.

A Cleveland crowd of 54,727 saw Colavito smash two home runs in the second game, his second coming with two on in the sixth inning to overcome a 4-2 Detroit lead. Killebrew, whose 33 home runs in Washington's 80 games match the pace of Ruth when he slammed his record 90 in 1927, went hitless Sunday.

Colavito has 28 in 81 games. Last year, the Rock walloped 27 of his 41 homers after the All-Star break.

Rocky's four runs batted in helped relief pitcher Jim Perry gain his fourth victory in five decisions. The rookie right hander relieved starter Al Cietone in the third and allowed no runs and four hits in 6 1/2 innings. Paul Foytack, helped by Harvey Kuenn's two-run homer, won the opener for the Tigers with a six-hit performance.

Jackie Jensen drove in four runs with a home run and two doubles and relief pitcher Bill Monbouquette hurled five-hit ball through 6 1/3 innings as the Red Sox won their sixth game in eight starts under their new manager, Billy Jurges. The defeat dropped the Yankees under the .500 mark again with a 41-42 record.

Hoyt Wilhelm finally won his 10th game. The knuckleball specialist, who lost four straight after winning his first nine games, hurled a four-hitter for the Orioles. Billy Gardner and Joe Taylor homered off loser Russ Kemmerer

There are 17 species of penguin, all having the same general family traits. The emperor penguin is quite rare, but the emperor, the king, and the Johnny penguins are among the best-known species. Penguins vary in size from 16 inches to four feet in height. Their wings are useless for flight but are used for swimming and diving.

and Baltimore outfielders Gene Woodling and Willie Thurmond had three hits apiece.

Rookie outfielder Jim McAnany hit bases-loaded triples in each game to lead the White Sox to their double victory over Kansas City. He capped a five-run first inning of the opener with a bases-clearing wallop off Bud Daley and duplicated the feat in the fifth inning of the second game to give the Sox a much-needed 9-0 lead.

The Athletics scored two runs in the sixth, three in the seventh and two more in the ninth to make the second game close. Bob Shaw was credited with his eighth victory against three defeats in the nightcap. Ray Moore won his second game in the opener.

Double Trouble for Yanks; 1st Baseman Out

BOSTON (AP) — Moose Skowron's aching back has Manager Casey Stengel fretting about a longtime Yankee stronghold—first base.

Skowron was returned to New York for treatment of his recurring ailment Sunday while the world champions took a fourth straight drubbing, 7-3, from the aroused Boston Red Sox.

Muscular but brittle, Skowron couldn't have been sidelined at a more critical time from the Yankees' viewpoint. The club has lost five of its last six starts, has fallen below .500 again and is clinging to the first division by a mere half game.

"He's gonna be missed bad," Stengel said. "He's only our lead in RBI men (59) and been hitting around .300. There's no telling how long he'll be out. It don't look very good for our side."

Stengel hinted he might try Norm Siebern or Elston Howard at first in place of the weak-hitting Merv Thompson.

Skowron's loss has been made more acute because New York slugger Mickey Mantle has not hit a homer in 19 days and has not driven in a run since June 25.

The Yankee pitching staff is riddled to.

Noting the team has had only 22 complete games in 83 starts, Stengel commented: "What I've got to do is find four pitchers who can go. These 250 hitters on the Red Sox have been murdering us."

Since manager Billy Jurges took over July 4, Boston has suddenly become the most potent offensive force in the American League with the Yankees bearing the brunt of it.

In the eight games under Jurges the Red Sox have won six, scored 63 runs put together their longest winning streak of the season (four) and climbed out of the cellar. Jackie Jensen has been hitting at a .315 clip and driven in 12 runs. Ted Williams is hitting .480 and Sammy White .455.

Faces Menaces Game-Winning Hurling Record

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The consecutive game winning records of Rube Marquard and Carl Hubbell, which have withstood the assaults of such Goliaths of the mound as Walter Johnson, Lefty Grove, Bob Feller and Dizzy Dean, were challenged today by a modern David. He is 3-foot, 7-inch Elroy Face of the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Face, who uses a baffling fork ball as his sling shot, came within five victories of equalling both marks Sunday when he won his 14th straight game this year and his 19th in a row over a two-year span. The 165-pound relief artist is unbeaten this year. He hasn't lost since May 30, 1950.

Marquard established a record of 19 consecutive victories with the New York Giants in 1912. No other 20th century pitcher has won more than 19 straight in one season. Hubbell, one of the six major leaguers who reached 16 in one season, holds the two-year record with 24 in a row. He set that record with the Giants in 1936-37.

The 31-year-old Face worked in both games Sunday as Pittsburgh defeated the St. Louis Cardinals 6-5 in the opener and led 5-4 in the ninth when the nightcap was halted because of the Pennsylvania 7 p. m. curfew law. It will be completed August 19.

Milwaukee's Braves defeated San Francisco 4-2 to move within a game and a half of the league leading Giants. San Francisco retained its one-game margin over Los Angeles, which bowed to Cincinnati 4-3. Chicago split with Philadelphia, the Cubs winning the first game 8-6 and the Phillies taking the second 4-1.

Chicago's White Sox reduced Cleveland's American League lead to one game with a 5-3 and 9-7 sweep of their doubleheader from Kansas City. The Indians split with Detroit, winning the second 8-4 after the Tigers had won the opener 6-2. Boston made it four in a row over New York with a 7-3 triumph and Baltimore downed Washington 5-1.

Face rescued Harvey Haddix in the eighth inning of the first game. He yielded the tying run in the ninth, but was credited with the victory when Roberto Clemente singled with the bases full. He was called upon again in the second game to protect a 5-4 lead in the ninth. The Cards had a runner on first and none out. The little right-hander fanned pinch hitter George Crowe. Before Elroy could pitch again, the clock struck seven and halted proceedings.

The two appearances were the 34th and 35th of the year for Face, who worked in 68, 59 and 57 games respectively, in the three previous campaigns.

Eddie Mathews batted in all Milwaukee's runs with a three-run homer, his 28th of the year, and a sacrifice fly. Mathews' slugging helped Lew Burdette gain his 12th triumph. The fidgety right-hander scattered seven hits, including a two-run homer by Jackie Brandt which ruined his shutout effort. Jack Sanford was the loser.

Gus Bell's ninth inning single scored Johnny Temple with the run that gave the Reds their first victory under their new manager, Freddy Hutchinson. Cincinnati had lost six straight, three under Hutchinson. Bob Purkey hurled a five-hitter against the Dodgers for his eighth victory. Home runs by Vada Pinson, Ed Bailey and Frank Robinson accounted for the first three runs.

Earl Averill sparked a seven-run fourth inning for the Cubs with a three-run homer against Jack Meyer of the Phillies. Ray Semproch gave the Phils a split by hurling a four-hitter in the nightcap.

me, Mrs. Paige, but I keep getting the feeling I've seen you somewhere. The feeling just won't leave me, but he dog gone if I know where we could have met. Or where I could have seen you before."

"I used to be a television actress," Diane said. "A good one too," Casey said. "She had the same degree of skill with which she bakes an apple pie."

Constable Maynor wagged his head and smiled. "So that's where I've seen you. On TV. News. I would have guessed it either. Say—does Old Man Blanchard know you were an actress?"

"I never mentioned it," Diane glanced at Casey. He shook his head.

"Blanchard hates 'em," the Constable said. "Not the stage, or amusements—just the people who work in the theatre. He judges them by his daughter-in-law, who turned out to be a great disappointment to him."

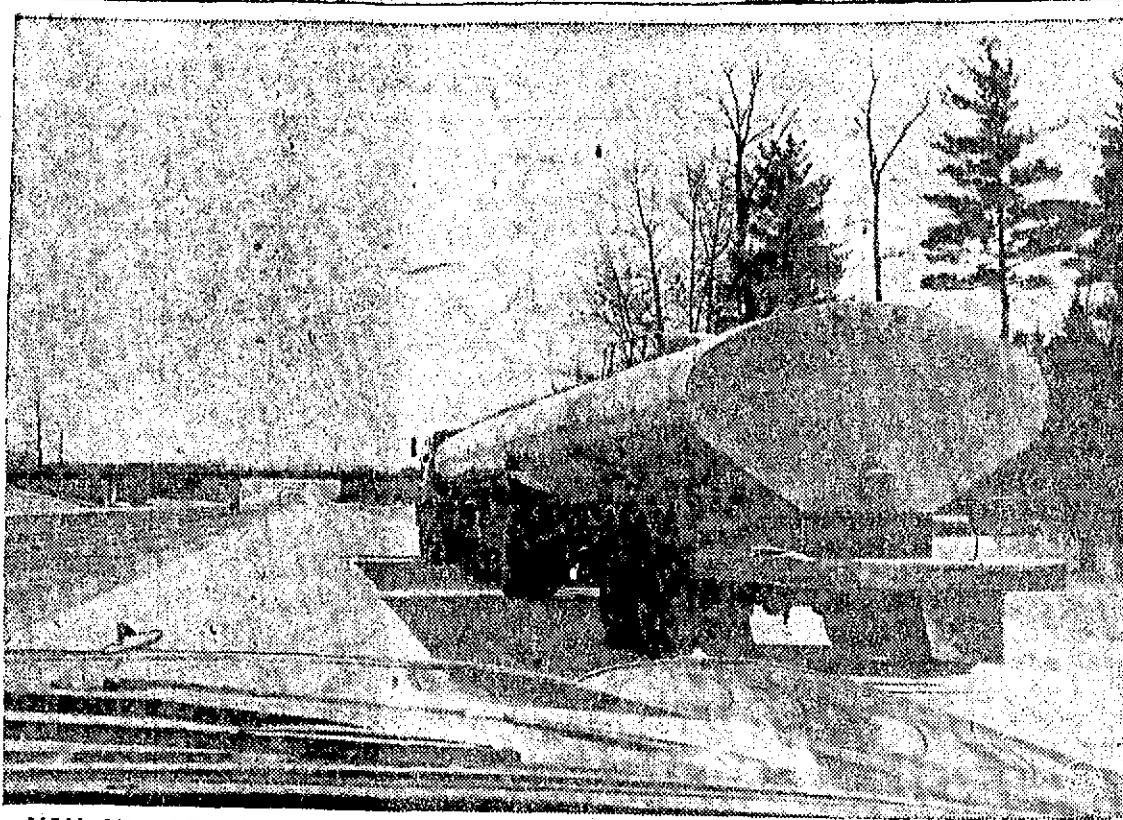

"That would be Libby Kircaldy," Casey said, and noticed the look of surprise on Maynor's face. "We saw the grave-stones a short time ago."

"Ernest was his son who died in the cottage?" Diane asked.

"Yes, ma'am. Ernest wasn't like the Blanchards before him. He wasn't tough and he was given to day-dreaming more than making money. The old man sensed he was different and kept a tight check on him, but even Old Owen Blanchard didn't try to buck the draft board. Ernest got called up with him. Seems Ernest grew up fast once he was away from his father's influence."

"Tell me about Libby," Diane said. "She was so young when she died."

"Well, nobody got to know Libby real well. There was a big fight and Ernest and Libby took off, after telling the old man where to head in. A long time passed before we saw him again, and then one day he came home, skinny and pale and sick. Things hadn't gone well for him — and Libby had left him, to go back on the stage. The old man took him in gladly. I'll bet he was real pleased, if the truth were ever known. Way I heard it, Ernest said okay, he'd live here if kept staring at Diane. "Excuse

YOU ARE SEEING DOUBLE—This is the way it looks when you pass a "double-bottom," two trailers hitched to a single tractor. In use in Western states for some time, the double units are being tried out on the New York Thruway, the first time they have been allowed on any of the East's toll roads. Specially equipped tractors hauling two trailers double payloads and cut expenses. Thruway authorities report few difficulties with the huge units and only scattered complaints from motorists.

News Briefs

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP)—A racing car climbed a barrier and plunged among spectators at a local track Sunday, injuring three of them.

The driver, Charles Sample, 29, of Amarillo, was not injured.

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP)—The vagrant led police quite a chase after he was spotted in a room at the Maple Hotel.

Later he was captured in another room by police who took no chances. They slipped a nose around his neck.

The rascally was locked in a clothes hamper until officials decided what to do with it.

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Police officer David Westley thinks inflation has hit the English language.

Westley, who remembers when people used to say, "for two cents I'd"—and so on, was writing out a ticket for a 19-year-old motorist Saturday night when he distinctly heard him say:

"For 15 cents I'd sock you in the nose."

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP)—Thomas Teeter of Albuquerque jumped into the car, put it out of gear and it rolled downhill into a car owned by Edward T. Cooney Jr.

Patrolman Joe Cisneros said, "When I asked to see his driver's license, he just laughed at me." Thomas is two years old.

XIII

Diane Paige was still thinking about Ernest and Libby Blanchard, the names she had seen on the headstones in the private cemetery near Owen Blanchard's home.

"Did they have any children?" she asked.

Constable Maynor shook his head. "No, ma'am, there weren't any children."

"Well," Casey said, "that trail ends. I don't know what we were thinking about anyway."

The Constable stood up. "I'd better get home. You're nice folks. I hope you stay, and I'll do all I can to find this little girl. Just don't expect much."

They walked with him to his flasher-lighted, siren-equipped car and watched him drive away.

"He's nice, but he doesn't really believe me," Diane said slowly and sadly.

"I warned you what to expect," "But you believe," she said, and took his arm to walk closely beside him on the way to the cottage. "So long as I have that to hold onto, I'm safe."

Next day, Casey was glad Diane hadn't accompanied him to town. He talked to Mel Calder first, and if Calder was mixed up in some nefarious scheme to kidnap a child, he showed no signs of it.

"I'm sorry, Mr. Paige," he said earnestly. "But that's just what happened. Your wife came in and bought all this stuff . . . milk and candy and cookies. I just asked her, being neighborly, what she wanted with all that food and she told me she had a little girl staying with her. She described her, but I couldn't identify her. The stuff about the Teddy bear—well, see for yourself. I don't sell toys

Casey had a strong urge to grasp Calder firmly by the throat. "For your edification," he said, restraining his temper, "I happen to know there was a Teddy bear. Mr. Calder, I saw enough of what was left of it to be sure."

"Hold on now," Calder warned, "don't go calling me a liar."

"I'm not. I didn't say I knew the Teddy bear came from your store. I merely stated that the Teddy bear existed. Good day, Mr. Calder."

Casey walked out too stiffly. He was giving away the fact that he was raging inside. He walked straight across the little square which composed the village shopping center, and entered the drug store. He nodded to the druggist and stepped into the phone booth at the front of the store, taking the phone book with him. He tried to look across the street at Calder's place, but he was unable to tell whether or not Calder was using the phone. He checked the number, dialed Calder's store and heard the busy signal.

Casey next dialed Owen Blanchard's house. He got the busy signal again. Mel Calder was calling Blanchard.

Casey had smug look on his face when he replenished his cigarette supply at the drug store counter. He made another stop at the hardware store, but he knew before he entered that he wouldn't find what he wanted.

That afternoon he asked Diane to ride with him to Biddeford. "I want to pick up some aluminum rods to make a rose trellis. They don't stock them in the village. We'll create an arbor from the gate to the porch. Saw that once in a magazine and I never forgot it."

"Oh darling," she approved with all her heart, "that's wonderful, but — do you think we should make improvements without Mr. Blanchard's permission?"

"I'm going to see the old boy and buy the place," Casey said. "There's a clause in the lease, gives us first crack at it and I think he'll listen."

"Not if he finds out I was an actress."

He held her face between his hands and bent and kissed her properly. "That's why I'm in a hurry to talk to him and settle this. Before he finds out. Darling, are you sure you want this house?"

"Yes, yes, I'm sure, Casey." "Is it because you think that little girl might come back here?"

She stepped away from him, searching his face for an answer. "If she comes back, I want to be here."

"Woman," he said sternly, "if you'd given me any other answer, I'd have believed you to be fickle."

She was in his arms quickly. "Oh, Casey, what will we do? How can we find the girl? What has happened to her?"

"It's all right," he said soothingly. "I doubt she's in any danger and I can tell you this much. Mel Calder's a liar and more than that — he keeps Blanchard posted. I'm quite certain Calder phoned the old boy as soon as I left the store."

"Go see him now, Casey. Find out how he feels about selling. I'll get ready and we'll drive to Biddeford. I want to make a phone call from there. I just don't trust the local phones."
